G. Five Strategic Priorities

1. Security and Safety

- a. A safe and secure environment must be present in order for us to effect positive change in the individuals we incarcerate.
- b. In order to operate correctional institutions and community-based corrections operations, both security and safety must be understood, prioritized, and tracked.

2. Treatment and Programming

- a. Treatment means ensuring that underlying behaviors that make someone act in certain ways are being explored and addressed with every client/incarcerated individual. This might take the form of counseling sessions or psychiatric help from one of the many staff trained in such areas.

- b. Programming means providing evidence-based, high-quality classes, interventions, and programs to the clients/incarcerated individuals that will allow them to explore, understand, and improve the deficits in their overall behavior as citizens.

3. Reentry

- a. Preparing anyone with correctional supervision for successful reentry is fundamental to the goal of safer communities.
- b. Successful reentry leads to a decrease in the number of incarcerated individuals in the prisons overall, thereby reducing the staff to incarcerated individual ratio and freeing up more resources to be focused on each individual under supervision.

4. Wellness

- a. Continue to focus on our mission: "Creating Opportunities for Safer Communities" by prioritizing development of a healthier workplace culture and climate.
- b. Build leadership skills at all levels, with an intentional focus on mid-level management.
- c. Goal of having a more meaningful performance appraisal process.

5. Organizational Culture

- a. Prioritize competencies and mindsets that support the ideal future state vision for institutions, districts and Central Office to operate as one team.
- b. Focus on ensuring all staff understand key functions of DOC and how to best work together to achieve DOC's mission.
- c. Establish robust infrastructure for providing proactive wraparound services (housing/placement, medical treatment, career development, etc.) to incarcerated individuals through effective communication and collaboration.
- d. Culture Training Pillars
 - 1. Professional Development - Develops talent, mentorship, leadership, organizational savvy.

2. Trust - Accountability, active listening, consistency, honesty transparency.
3. Courage - Conflict resolution, decision-making resilience.
4. Flexibility - Adaptability, change management, managing ambiguity.
5. Innovation - Creative thinking, collaboration, leadership.

H. Four Target Areas

1. Train and Empower

- a. In order to effectively accomplish the three core priorities, leadership needs to make it essential that staff are trained effectively and empowered.
- b. It is the goal of the department that staff are empowered to execute their duties, motivated to execute those duties in accordance with the department's policies and strategic plan, and trained to effectively contribute towards the goals and mission of the department.

2. Reduce Risk and Increase Protective Factors

- a. With proper programming and placement efforts, skill-building to attain adequate employment, and positive peer groups, people's risk factors can actually be reduced over time (thus leading to protective factors).
- b. It will be the goal of the department to make efforts to reduce an individual's risk by focusing on making sure clients and incarcerated individuals are being placed in the right treatment program that address multiple risk factors, attain employment/education, are getting necessary medical/mental health treatment, and measuring their outcomes.
- c. Staff will appropriately identify existing protective factors, reinforcing those and working to decrease barriers that make reentry challenging while also helping justice involved individuals in building protective factors such as meaningful employment and positive peers.

3. Reduce Barriers

- a. With over 90% of those incarcerated returning to the community, and with over 30,000 people at any time being on correctional supervision in the community, it is a priority for the department to identify, develop plans to address, and implement strategies to reduce the barriers that clients and/or incarcerated individuals face that reduce the likelihood of successful rehabilitation or reintegration.
- b. This includes obtaining a State Identification/State Driver's License or obtaining employment.

4. Continuous Quality Improvement

- a. The department will be making continuous quality improvement a target area.
- b. This means focusing on assessing the quality of the tools and programs we are using, providing, and taking efforts to improve this quality over time.
