  - a. Entry/exit to/from the living unit
  - b. Entry/exit to/from the housing unit
  - c. Type of searches
  - d. Random searches (and frequency)
  - e. Documentation of searches
3. Institutions shall establish procedures to prevent unauthorized access to housing and living units.
4. Institutional procedures shall outline security measures directly affecting unit operations for the following security topics:
  - a. Housing Unit Control Center operations
  - b. Incarcerated individual counts
  - c. Security inspections
  - d. Searches
  - e. Key control
  - f. Tool control
5. In lieu of including these institutional procedures within this policy Institutions may elect to provide the required information in a separate policy and/or within this policy. At a minimum, the corresponding policy and procedure shall be identified.

D. Operations – Out-of-Cell Time

1. Consistent with the institution's custody designation, incarcerated individuals' classification status, level incentive program assignment, and physical plant restrictions or opportunities, institutions shall maximize opportunities for out of cell time for general population incarcerated individuals.
2. Out-of-cell time shall include both formal opportunities such as programs, work assignments and yards, as well as housing unit- or living unit-based activities such as dayroom time, access to exercise yards, and access to unit services.
3. Institutional procedures shall implement out-of-cell time; procedures shall also address quiet hours, lights out, etc. through institutional schedules that reflect the unique physical plant, program opportunities, and other local factors.
4. In collaboration with the Warden, the Deputy Director of Institution Operations may require that institutional operations be adjusted to maximize opportunities for out-of-cell time for general population incarcerated individuals.

E. Operations – Movement

Institutions shall establish procedures governing movement in/out of and within the housing and living units. The movement procedures shall address any documentation accounting for movement that is required. Procedures will address the following types of movement at a minimum:

1. Escorted
2. Directed
3. Observed
4. Restricted Movement

F. Operations – Managing Incarcerated Individual Behavior

1. In order to promote and encourage prosocial incarcerated individual behavior and minimize disruptive incarcerated individual behavior, staff will actively supervise incarcerated individuals. Active supervision of incarcerated individuals requires staff to:
  - a. Be a prosocial role model,

- b. Clearly communicate expectations for incarcerated individuals,
  - c. Have positive and appropriate interaction with incarcerated individuals,
  - d. Resolve incarcerated individual concerns at the lowest level possible,
  - e. Be approachable and responsive to incarcerated individuals and their needs, and
  - f. Manage conflict using deescalating techniques.
2. Living Unit Officers shall conduct formal rounds of the living unit observing all incarcerated individuals at least once every 30 minutes on an irregular basis. During rounds, staff will communicate with incarcerated individuals, look for damage and contraband, inspect to identify safety and security issues, resolve minor issues, etc. Formal rounds shall be documented in the appropriate PDA scan points.
3. Staff shall manage incarcerated individual behavior using a variety of strategies that routinely initiate interaction with incarcerated individuals and provide continual visual observation of the living unit. Staff shall:
- a. Monitor all incarcerated individuals and areas,
  - b. Respond to incarcerated individual requests in a timely and fair manner,
  - c. Investigate any activities or changes in incarcerated individual behavior appearing out of the ordinary,
  - d. Recognize potential problems between incarcerated individuals and move swiftly to resolve them,
  - e. Enforce facility rules consistently,
  - f. Provide feedback that encourages self-assessment and self-correction, and assists in developing personal responsibility by advancing incarcerated individual self-sufficiency, and

- g. Communicate with incarcerated individuals in a respectful and courteous manner
- 4. Living Unit Staff shall be watchful for incarcerated individuals who are not actively participating in unit activities or are not productively engaged and, when appropriate, staff shall work with the incarcerated individual and unit team members to advance constructive use of the incarcerated individual's time.
- 5. Institutions shall establish procedures that outline the extent of authority Living Unit Staff have regarding modifying of privileges, imposing sanctions (rule violations), developing and administering incentives, addressing negative or noncompliant behavior, etc.
- 6. Staff shall remain on post in the living unit until properly relieved or directed otherwise by proper authority.
- 7. The Warden or designee, Deputy Warden, and designated department heads shall visit each housing/living unit at least monthly to promote informal contact with staff and incarcerated individuals and to informally observe living and working conditions. Such visits shall be noted in the appropriate Post Logbook or the appropriate PDA scan points.

G. Operations - Leisure Activities

- 1. Institutions shall incorporate a wide range of leisure time activities within the housing and living units to keep incarcerated individuals productively engaged, to reduce idleness, to build socialization skills, and to create opportunities for self-awareness, character building and team building. The degree to which activities are offered shall be guided by the institution's transition incentive program (TIP), physical plant, staffing levels, incarcerated individuals' custody status, etc.
- 2. Leisure time activities will be delivered in a variety of settings within the unit/facility:
  - a. Group and individual leisure activities,
  - b. Organized events,
  - c. Nonscheduled activities,
